FOREWORD

*"When to the sessions of sweet silent thought
I summon up remembrance of things past . . ."*

No time in our lives will leave a more lasting impression than the medical school years. They were the first definite crystallization of long-held ambition that for some was definite; for others less well-defined; for all, imbued with love and concern about the problems of people. They were the last situation where individuality was, of necessity, schooled to a common offering, linking us together in a way deeply enriched by the variety of approaches we brought to it. More pain, joy, contentment, depression, fun, and hard work was our experience as medical students than is the experience of many in a lifetime. Heights of wisdom and sacrifice were demanded and, somehow, accomplished that lent us a new depth of character, an ability to cope. Best of all, embarking on the closest of relationships, that of the doctor and her patient, was the beginning of the most rewarding opportunity offered us in life.

It is our sincere hope that all the myriad of emotions and attitudes we have entertained will be represented in this edition of the IATRIAN, so that, in years to come, the fresh enthusiasm we now feel will be renewed and our motives revived whenever we browse through it. It will also preserve something of our particular class spirit for all our friends we will leave behind.

A pretty little girl of three.

In elementary school—1918

Receiving citation from Dr. Marion Fay for 25 years of devoted service—1958

Graduation from high school—1924

DEDICATION:

Because she has dedicated her life to the enlightenment of others, particularly in the field of Medical Microbiology; because she is a leader in the research efforts of her profession; because she is an ever delightful person whose humor reflects itself in the perpetual twinkle in her eye; and because our lives will forever be enriched by the example of intelligence and curiosity neatly guided into channels of service to mankind and decorated with lightness of heart, we, the CLASS of 1968, proudly, but humbly, dedicate our edition of THE IATRIAN to Dr. Ruth E. Miller.

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT AND DEAN

TO THE SENIORS:

The time draws near when you are to become full fledged members of an honored profession, when you can say proudly, "I am a physician." Your teachers, the members of the Board, the Administrative Staff and I are all proud of your attainments. We are confident you will continue to move ahead toward your individual goals of professional accomplishments so that your medical school will always be glad to say, "She's one of our graduates."

To each of you, our best wishes for a successful career.

Yours sincerely,

SURGERY at Woman's is very complicated; they want us in the O.R. and at lecture too.

Eighty patients each and no one there to teach; and though they make us scrub, we get nothing to do.

. . . . When in doubt, cut it out; that's how it goes. Operative risk is the least of our woes.

Take your Dilantin 'cause everything goes, when they yell "Cut it out" !!!

Surgery at V.A. is very stimulating; there's lots of information that ain't Surgery.

We were first assistants to educated elbows; and if we didn't work, we were called a (* $(a' # #^* #^*)$).

. When in doubt, cut it out; that's how it goes.

They check the X-Rays, but everyone knows.

Whether it's hidden or whether it shows, it's the same . . . Cut it out!!!

Bones, bodies, brains, B. O., biochemistry, basic physiology and biophysics, bull sessions, bad exams, bitter post-mortems, big books, bald professors, banging colored pencils, blunt instruments, borrowed time, baggy eyes, budding friendships, boring week-ends. BOYLESS SOCIETY, bottomness of the totem pole (again!), Mrs. Barber's wig—this was freshman year. Suddenly, college seemed as remote as kindergarten; why had we ever thought we had a lot to do? But there were high points such as: receiving a real stethoscope, ordering a name tag that actually said "Dr. So and So", the first patient contact in those afternoon CPC's, starting close friendships with advisors, completing embryology projects. Once we were sure we had passed and stopped to muse a little, we realized we would never be the same carefree young girls again!

Thought this year'd be better.
Golly it got woise . . . Used to be a nice goil
Now I even coise.
Crap we're supposed to swallow,
never will apply.
Only woiks on monkeys . . . people always die.
You wonder why I look the way I do
If you were here you'd look the same way too.

Papers galore, and then what's more . . . we even have to pass the Boards to stay.
All you darn professors, on our
knees we implore;
When you review cases, please don't show us the door.
So it's no news, that we've got
Second Year Blues on Henry Avenue.

Oh, they made us stay in Micro, 1 P.M.
to setting sun—every minute planned with useless things to do. Boring lectures taxed our eyelids e'er the first words were begun. Our frustration, bounds nor limits never knew. Dr. Miller smiled so sweetly as she chained us to our desks and she told us Fairy Tales with greatest ease. Of the pranks of Typhoid Mary and relaps-ing fever's joys. And the incidence of syphilis in Greece.

Dr. Knight sure knew his fungi, his rick-ettsia and T.B.—and his movies were so old they barely talked. "Flame ze loop, don't break ze agar, and, my God, don't write zat down." At the hundred-fiftieth virus, we all balked!

Senior in the morning. Junior in the noontime, Sophomores in the afternoon, here comes another student, to make a wreck of you. Time to do the physical, my God, where should I start? Strip, I'll turn my back and examine every part. Every part? . . . Thank you very kindly. Cover up your hiney. I do believe that I am through. Now wait! I'll get a doctor, and we'll examine you!

THIRD YEAR:

Judy Salz, Dr. Jane Leibfried, Sheila Margolis, Polly Graham

Are there words to describe the situation of the third year student? She is in the limbo between basic science and actual clinical responsibility. Her passwords are a thorough history and physical (including a rectal exam) and basic pathophysiology. She is told she is a working member of the medical team, but she is the last to see the patient, cannot be paged for rounds or discussions, is unable to reach the floors until after nine o'clock when all the procedures are already done and therefore spends what time she has left begging for some attention from the overworked house staff. Special junior conferences further remove her from the mainstream. How does one survive! But the thrill of answering to "Doctor", of scrubbing in the O.R., of knowing that she is more than halfway through and of applying the stacks of lectures to the practice of medicine offer their own personal rewards. And when she has survived the marathon of exams at year's end, she is nearly home.

As stated in its Constitution, the purpose of the Fraternity is to promote friendship among physicians and medical students; loyalty to one another and to the medical profession; as well as the advancement of scientific works. Although many standards change and new opportunities arise, this basic purpose of the Zeta Phi Fraternity remains true.

The Beta Chapter was chartered in 1903 to join with the Alpha Chapter of Syracuse University so that it might promote the bonds of a fraternity for the women of the medical profession at that institution. Other chapters, in Boston, New York City, and at Johns Hopkins, in Baltimore, followed. Since those early days, the Fraternity has grown; characterized by sincerity and earnestness of purpose; by courage and strength; yet unflinching gentleness.

Zeta Phi's home, in Philadelphia, has been located on Fox Street for many years. It houses the traditions of those who came before us and the scent of many, now-honored and beloved women of medicine—Drs. Catherine MacFarlane, Alma Dea Morani, Mary DeWitt Pettit. Many of our present faculty were Zeta members—Dr. Jean Gowing, Dr. Doris Goodman, Dr. Anne Pike, Dr. Anna Brady, Dr. Jean Forest and Dr. Rhoda Pomerantz—to name a few.

It is the wish of Zeta that its members and all the women of medicine enjoy the completeness and perfection in medicine that these women have achieved.

THE BEST OF SKIT NIGHT: FIRST YEAR:

Four years ago, Alice ventured into Wonderland (Woman's Med) and found freshman year to be slightly less than Utopia. Here are some of the words she muttered as she dragged her body through the halls:

"Dear kindly Dr. Beasley, you've got to understand! It was a lousy scalpel, that's why I cut my hand. It looks so very bloody. I think I'm gonna faint. Oh goodness gracious, a doctor I ain't."

"Dear kindly Dr. Beasley, this body stinks like hell. I brought my aerosol, but it doesn't work so well. The adipose is melting, the flies are getting thick. Of molds and maggots, you can have your pick."

"Oh, help me Dr. Beasley. I've got a mental block. I've tried to learn from Morris, from Ransom and from Clark. I looked it up in Woodburne's and checked it out in Grant's. Dr. Beasley, we ain't got a chance."

"Oh, hurry Dr. Beasley. I think this one's not dead. I only poked his nostril but then he moved his head. It's not that I'm so squeamish, oh won't you understand. My goodness gracious, now he moved his hand."

* * * *

"I know a place where the sun never shines and it's in Physio. I hear an axe and the head's usually mine, in Physio. They won't help us in the lab even tho' they've seen us. The only one who gives a damn is Freddie DeMartinis."

"We're so depressed each Saturday morn when we flunk a test. It's misery with Masoro."

"When we met Voci, our blood pressures rose when he said Seestolee. Urbach agreed—no chest leads for our EKG's. In the interest of science, we were truly blessed—when Ed Fetherolf offered up his chest—Small Lead!!!

"We've shown in lab that pyramidal lesions cause flaccidity. Clinical men, they do not agree, they say spasticity. Everything we learn in class is strictly up to date. Hurry up and lecture before it is too late. OOPS!!! Too late!!!"

* * * *

Mary, Mary, quite contrary, how does your urine flow? Acid or basic? Did you remember to taste it? So who the hell wants to know?

SECOND YEAR: - second prize

TO THE TUNE OF "BOOTS":

You keep saying we must do our best!
Quite impossible, teach', you must confess.
You've been testing when we should've been studying.
And now we're really getting quite upset!
Those Boards were made for passing,
And that we hope we'll do!
One of these days this class is gonna walk right out on you!

Dr. Norkin, you're your own best fan.
A better name for you is 'Stan the Man'.
You think you alone are in command.
But Freedman always gets the upper hand!
The slides we all did hate. Your dirty jokes were great!
But you think we're all frustrated.
So we're walking out on you!

Dr. Dubin, we think you are the best.
You killed us with your round-ups and your tests.
You filled our minds with hemochromatosis,
Ideopathic jaundice and necrosis.
You've made us all big boozers. Our livers now are losers. And in hepatic coma, we will flap right out on you.

Oh, Dr. Harris sure can auscultate.
To him consolidation's really great.
Ronchi, rales, a cough, egophony.
Comprise the Harris pneumo-symphony.
To us it's all confusion. To hell with pleural effusion!
One of these days a patient's gonna sneeze all over you!

Oh, Dr. Stapleton is Johnny-on-the-Spot.
In Physical Diagnosis, he is hot.
He plays lub-dubs until we've had our fill.
But we would really rather feel a thrill.
The reason it's so muddy—we have no time to study.
So we'll just flunk the final.
And we'll gallop out on you.

TO THE TUNE OF "BEEP-BEEP":

A man named Johnny Stapleton—who had a tape-machine Played lub and dub and dub and lub to show us what they mean.
Rumbles, roars and even snores,
Perhaps a click or two.
But we can't hear S₁ or 2
So what are we to do?

Spencer Raab thinks blood is really swell.
He sure is after ours. Oh, we can tell.
Why else on top of all that we've been through,
Would he announce a test and smile and chew?
To make it better still, this Monday is the kill.
Oh, Spencer Raab, you slob, we're gonna bleed all over you!!!

"DIGITALIS"—TO THE TUNE OF "HALLELUIA CHORUS":

Digitalis, Digitalis, Digitalis, Digitalis—to you we give all hail!!!
Digitalis, Digitalis, Digitalis, Digitalis—there's hope within the vail!!!
For the congestive heart that ain't pumping—just do your stuff and it will start jumping!!!
Digitalis, Digitalis, Digitalis, Digitalis!!!

But though your course is sure, we still must be mature,
And see what side-effects you can produce, or help induce.
A-V Block . . . can be partial or complete, tachycardia, skip a beat!!!
G.I. Signs . . . anorexia, nausea and vomiting, diarrhea, frequency!!!
Neural Signs . . . vision blurred, convulsions, fatigue and malaise!!!
Arrhythmias . . . bigeminies and P.A.T.
But the patient can live forever and ever.
High potassium. Low calcium. Quinidine. Diuretics.
Best of all—DIGITALIS
We love you DIG !!!

THIRD YEAR: - first prize

TO THE TUNE OF “IT IS NO SECRET”:

Our lovely Dean gave out the news—another girl is through.
We all know she flunked. Was that someone you?
You may have longed for one more chance, your status to renew.
You might as well forget it . . . for we have news for you.
Chorus: It is no secret what they can do
 What they've done to others
 They'll do to you.
 With arms wide open, they'll kick you too!!!
 It is no secret what they can do.
They coddle us and smile and claim that someday we'll be great.
But don't let down your guard or you'll never graduate.
They've got a file including every goof you've ever made.
The way you wear mascara is counted in your grade.

TO THE TUNE OF "THE HALLS OF IVY":

As I view the new brick building—standing there majestically
High o'er the Schuylkill Highway—it cries out to you and me.

“Oh, will I ever open?
Oh, students will I see?
I surely won’t believe it—
Until 1983.

Nine floors it offers you—with new equipment too!!!
And added space for things you now can't do—
Like eating after three, and sleeping comfortably
The nights you're on OB or Surgery!!!!

We dream of new horizons, to be Seniors in that wing.
But we know it just won't happen 'ere we graduate next spring.
So stand there oh great building, the answer to our prayers
And if you ever open we'll all need our rocking chairs!!!

TO THE TUNE OF “GOD SAVE AMERICA”:

All hail Urology—Hail K and K
They're devoted to manhood.
With a T.U.R. they'll often save the day

If you're strictured or obstructed,
Or your Foley causes pain.
Kendall and Karafin
Relieve the strain
They make you feel like a man again.

From the kidney to the bladder to the prostate and from there.
Kendall and Karafin take such good care.
So hail Urology—and—enjoy your affair!

TO THE TUNE OF "TWO TO TANGO":

If you want to deliver with Pike—she's as hyper as a high-flying kite.
 If you want to deliver on your own—Dr. Clifford will deliver you by phone.
 If you don't care how long you are there—ask for Liebfried's meticulous care.
 If you want to have children at will—Dr. Laufer never will prescribe the pill.
 It takes two to tango—two to tango
 Two to really get the product of romance.
 You did the tango—did the tango
 Now you're here with us!!!
 If you chose Celebre—don't despair. She'll arrive after styling her hair.
 If a natural delivery you prize—Dr. Hughes will hypnotize you with his eyes.
 If you want a real bang-up affair—Dr. Young will provide Texas flair.
 If in labor, you're hungry and blue, Martha B. will share her pizza pie with you.

TO THE TUNE OF "SUGARTOWN":

They can't read my FBS. My pancreas is one helluva mess.
I flunked my glucose tolerance test. I'm in a-a-a-a-a-a-a-a-acidosis.
My glycolytic cycle's totally bound. My FFA's are running around.
In my liver no glycogen's found. I've got ke-ke-ke-ke-ke-ke-ke-ke-ke
-ke-ke-tosis.

TO THE TUNE OF "MAME":

When you give a lecture at noon, June,
 We always know it's autoimmune, June.
 We get hypersensitive—simply at the mention of your name.
 Those L.E. cells agglutinate; it's your claim to fame.

Do your jaundiced patients have a still, Phil?
 Are they all taking Gelusil, Phil?
 We know it's liver necrosis—simply at the mention of your name.
 Is it extrahepatic, or is it cholestatic?
 Are you spiking their pills, Phil?

You see all your patients on a view-box, Fox.
 Renal angiography is a paradox, Fox.
 I want a barium enema simply at the mention of your name.
 You're always working in the dark; yea, you're quite a dame.

You may think that we're just having a laugh, Staff.
 But we're worried! Next year you'll just be half, Staff.
 It seems teachers are leaving, simply at the mention of their name.
 I wonder who will still be here—when we return to school next year.
 We'll treat you to a case of beer—but with your all not coming back—
 We'll only need one lousy six pack.

TO THE TUNE OF "HAPPY TOGETHER":

Imagine Jim and me, I do!
 I'd work with him both day and night
 It's only right, to think about his bedroom eyes
 And hold him tight, standing together.

I can't see me loving nobody but Bugs—
 and his black box.

When you sound me, Bugsie, your box
 will be bright—
 Turn out the light!!!!

I can't see me loving nobody but Dave.
 I'd be his slave.
 When he asks "What's hot at the V.A.", I cry,
 "It's only I!!!!"

When Voci auscultates, I'd bear my chest
 To hear him say he feels a thrill—
 I'd do my best
 Imagine Boland's hand on mine
 So very fine, scrubbed in together.

Me and Spence, and Spence and me
 No matter how you curl your hair
 It has to be.
 The only comb for you is me, and I will be Running my hands through.

Imagine me and Ray. I'd fall for him.
 I would do most anything to wear his pin.
 I wish that fate would go my way,
 And we could be—casted together.

TO THE TUNE OF "BEETHOVEN'S FIFTH":

We need to see—his E.K.G. . . . His QRS is long . . . Its axis is all wrong
 And there's this shift in his ST . . . He's not in Dig, it has to be . . . LV hypertrophy.

Look at this lead . . . Now this is AV block—it looks like Wenkebach
 Its PR lengthens with each beat—until a P contraction fails
 To get a QRS response . . . With diastolic pause
 The cycle starts again—THEN
 And he's in failure too!!!

Does he have diffuse carditis . . . Much resistance from stenosis . . . Or an increased output state
 These reduce the S-L ratio, then, there's less systolic emptying
 And with more residual blood, there's dilatation, pressure elevation and reduced CO

Now what is this we spy? Esophageal leads show deep Q waves . . . and ST's high
 So here's M.I. . . . probably old posterior
 And so you see . . . his history . . . on E.K.G.

ACTIVITIES:

Nora Avins and Dr. and Mrs. Henry Rosenberg wowed the audience at S.A.M.A.'s 'An Evening of Music—1967'

A chorus of choirgirls represented the Class of '68 in their second year skit

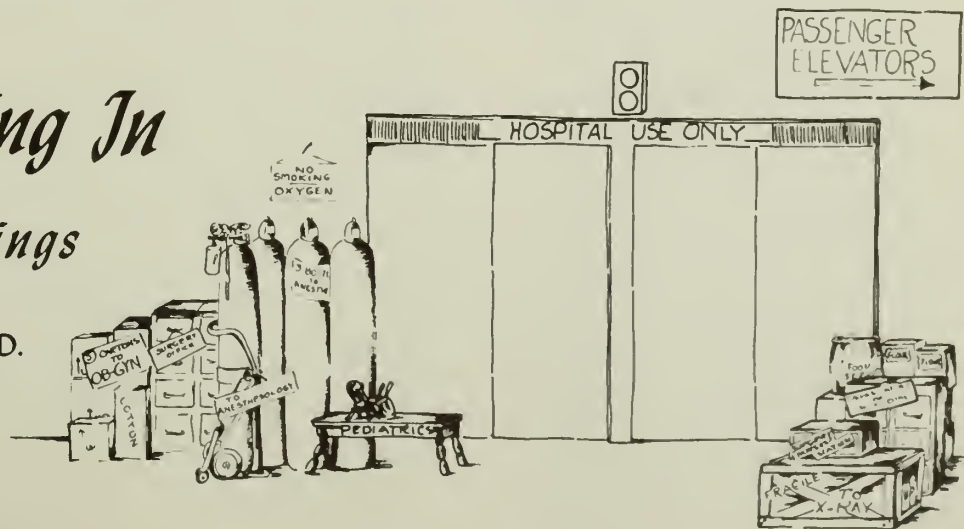

Mini-dresses were in mode as the Class of '68 gave their first-prize winning third year skit performance

HALLOWEEN 1967:

One Halloween evening, the group from E.P.I. . . .

. . . met under the weeping willow at Women's Med.

They came as Schizos . . .

. . . Cirrhotics . . .

. . . and gay blades . . .

They made new friends . . .

Sang and danced . . .

And all-in-all, had a wonderful time at the homes of the gracious faculty members of W.M.C.H. . . .

THE OATH OF HIPPOCRATES

I swear by Apollo, the physician, and Aesculapius and Hygeia and Panacea and all the gods and goddesses, that according to my ability and judgment, I will keep this Oath and this stipulation: to reckon him who taught me this Art equally dear to me as my parents, to share my substance with him and relieve his necessities if required, to look upon his offspring in the same footing as my own brothers and to teach them this Art if they shall wish to learn it, without fee or stipulation; and that by precept, lecture and every other mode of instruction I will impart a knowledge of the Art to my own sons and those of my teachers and to disciples bound by a stipulation and oath, according to the law of medicine, but to none others.

I will follow the system of regimen which, according to my ability and judgment, I consider for the benefit of my patients, and abstain from whatever is deleterious and mischievous. I will give no deadly medicine to anyone if asked, nor suggest any such counsel.

With purity and holiness I will pass my life and practice my art. Into whatever houses I enter, I will go into them for the benefit of the sick, and will abstain from every voluntary act of mischief and corruption. Whatever in connection with my professional practice or not in connection with it, I see or hear in the life of men which ought not to be spoken of abroad, I will not divulge, as reckoning that all such should be kept secret. While I continue to keep this Oath unviolated, may it be granted to me to enjoy life and the practice of the Art respected by all men in all times! But should I trespass and violate this Oath, may the reverse be my lot!

THE WOMAN'S MEDICAL COLLEGE OF PENNSYLVANIA

ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTEENTH
ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT

June 6, 1968

*Irvine Auditorium
Thirty-fourth and Spruce Streets
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania*

In the summer of 1967, we, the Class of '68, began our Senior Year.

ANN E. BARKER
University of Wisconsin, B.S.
Evanston, Illinois

RITA M. CHIARAMONTE
St. John's University, B.S.
Jamaica, New York

It was a year which marked the end of our formal training as student doctors.

We became specialists in every field of medicine.

JEANNETTE A. CHIRICO
St. John's University, B.S.
Emerson, New Jersey

MARCIA L. COLLINS
Miami University, B.A., M.A.
Dayton, Ohio

Some shouldered great responsibility and became influential leaders in the medical world.

Many times, we didn't leave for home until the wee hours of the morning.

PATRICIA K. CRUMRINE
Marietta College, B.S.
Mansfield, Ohio

MARIANNE FRECKING
University of Utah, B.S.
Salt Lake City, Utah

Yet there was always a little time left to enjoy the company of fellow-students.

The Emergency Room helped us learn that abdominal pain was not always Ob-Gyn.

LIBBY-CLAIRE GREENBERG
Hunter College, A.B.
Brooklyn, New York

MARY LANE A. JERISTA
Misericordia College, B.S.
Dallas, Pennsylvania

It also challenged our manual dexterity by providing us with a host of traumatized, screaming and squirming children.

And it afforded us the opportunity to polish those skills that were spoken of so often in lecture.

BEULAH D. JONES
New York University, B.A.
New York, New York

JOAN A. KEDZIORA
Chestnut Hill College, B.S.
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

We became proficient in the field of Radiology . .

... and in Pediatrics.

I. JANET PHILLIPS KRAMER (BRIAN)
The Pennsylvania State University, B.S.
Schuylkill Haven, Pennsylvania

BARBARA A. KUTSCHMAN
Caldwell College for Women, B.A.
Belmar, New Jersey

Yet the reading of the 1948-1968 bulletin-boards was not as easily mastered.

We fought the theories of Freud . . .

MAREN J. LAWSON
St. Olaf College, Wagner College
Birmingham, Michigan

JUDITH D. LERNER
University of Arizona, B.S.
Forest Hills, New York

. . . and believed infants and children to be pure and innocent creatures.

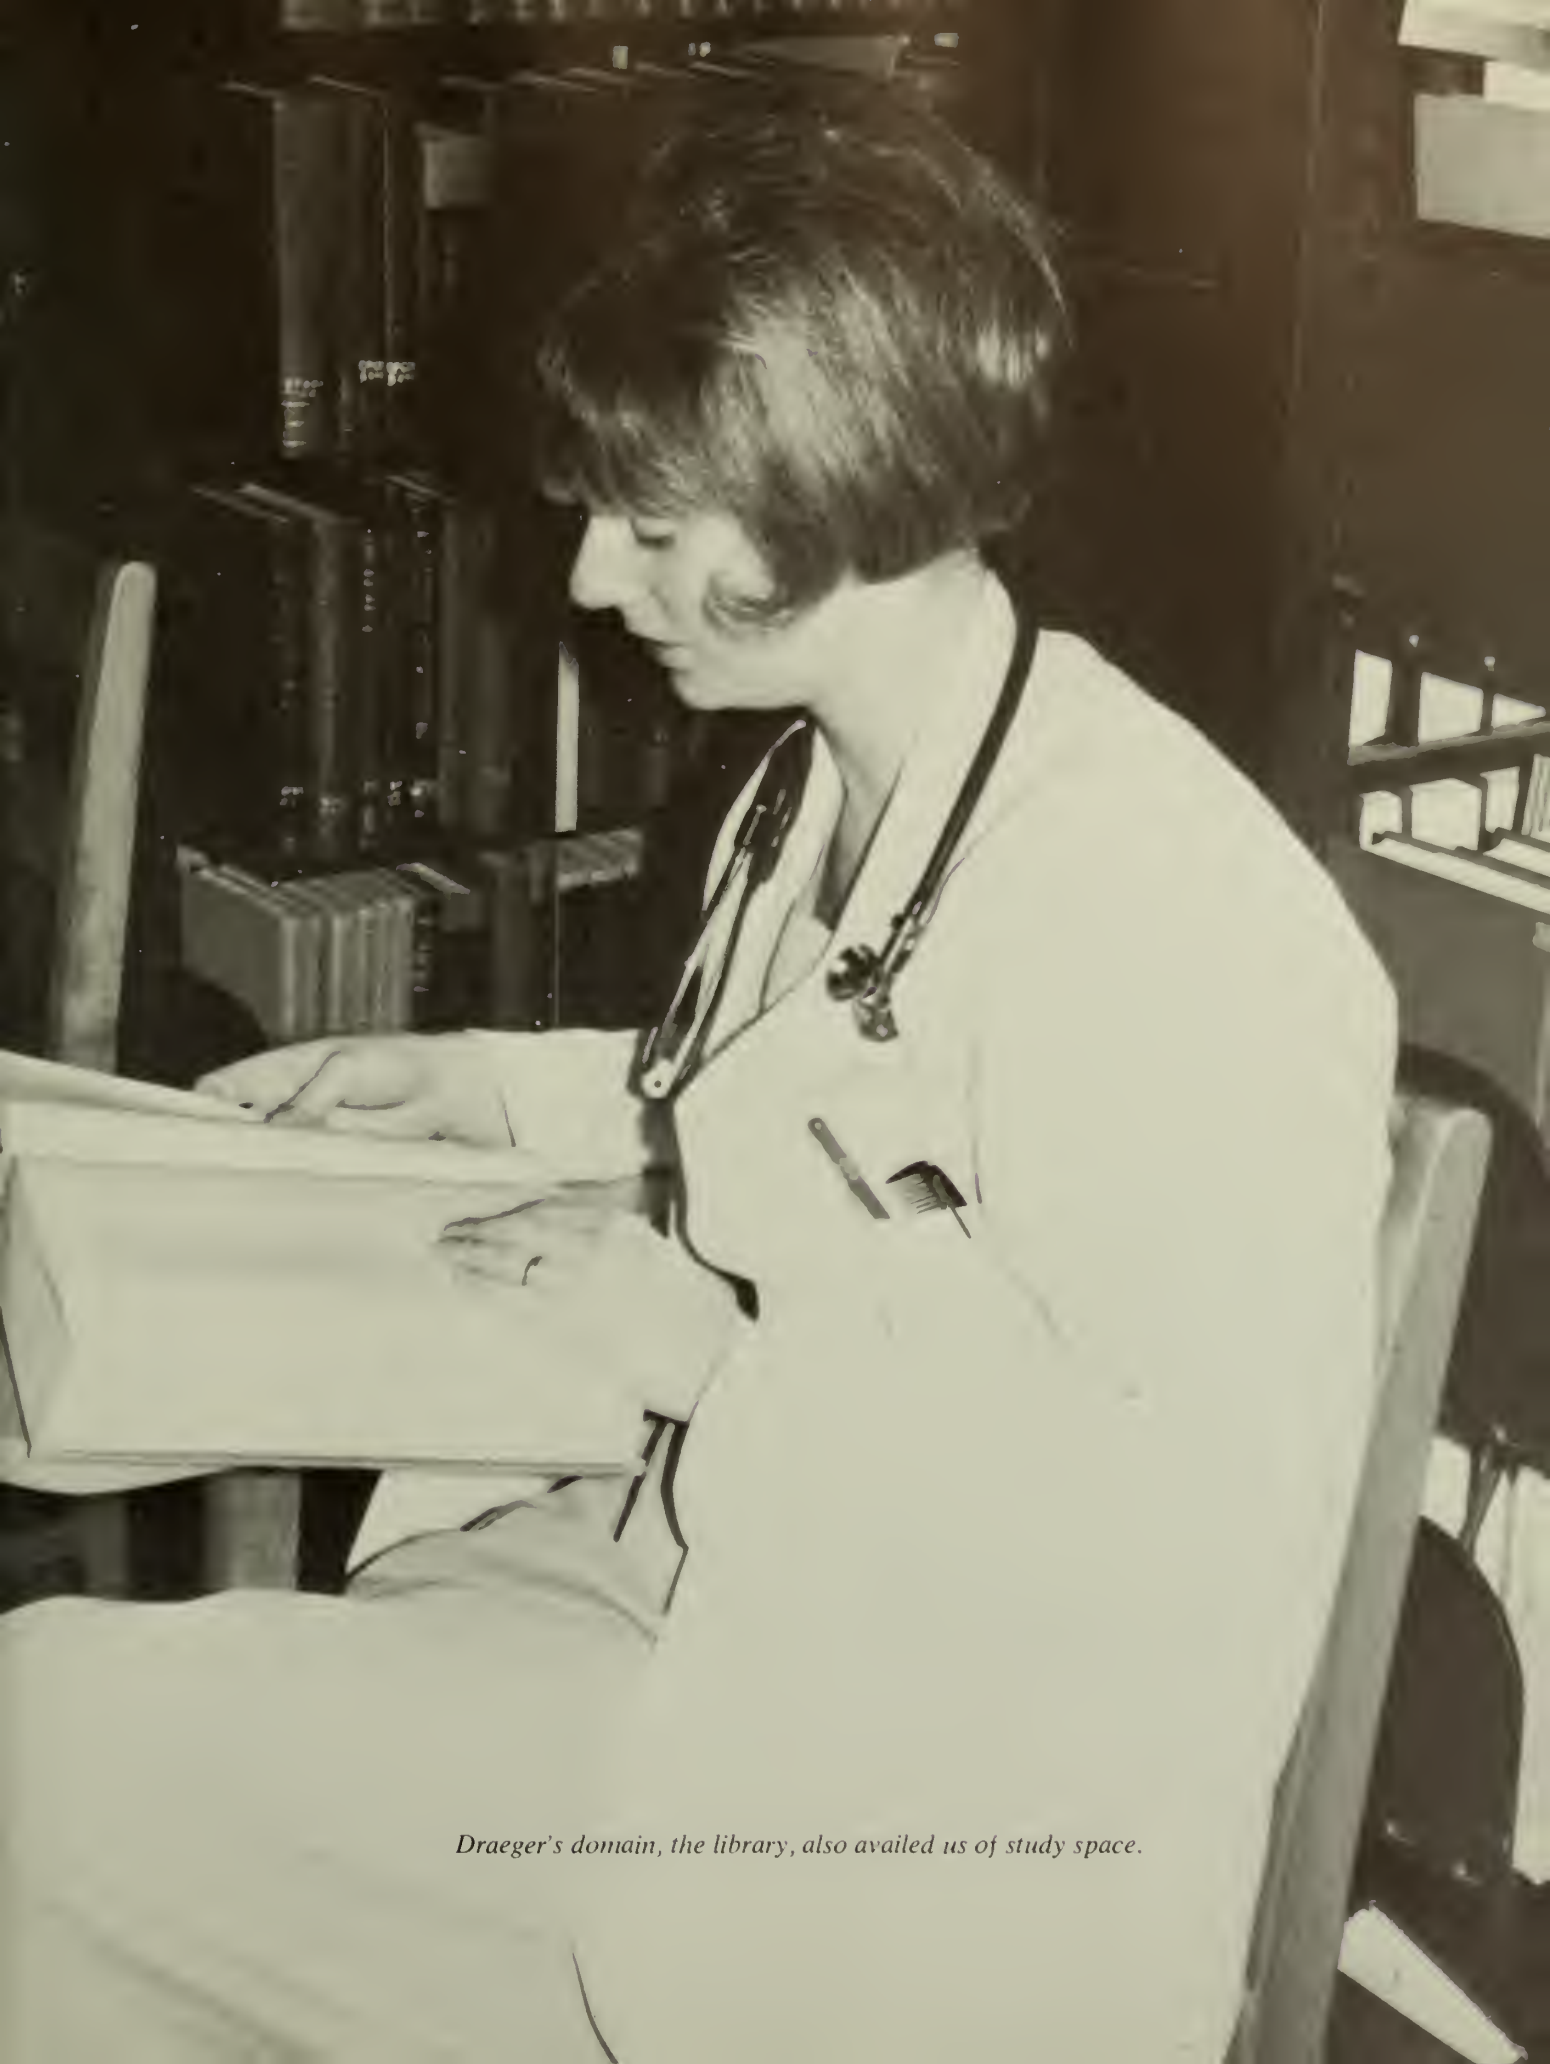

The Schuylkill, in Spring and Fall, offered the beauty of nature in which to learn.

ELISABETH LOUISE MACRAE
College of Mount Saint Vincent, B.S.
Bronxville, New York

JONI LAHR MAGEE (RICHARD)
University of Pennsylvania, B.A.
New York University School of Medicine
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

Draeger's domain, the library, also availed us of study space.

However, we seemed to learn best by being with our patients.

BARBARA J. MARCELO
Immaculata College, A.B.
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

MORGANA MARTINEZ
Siena Heights College, B.S.
Vega Baja, Puerto Rico

Sterile technique became second nature.

*In Janie, we found an able,
dedicated and tireless president.*

MARTHA JANE MATJASKO
Mercyhurst College, B.A.
Natrona Heights, Pennsylvania

FRANCINE PELZMAN MILLER (BARRY)
Brooklyn College, B.S.
Brooklyn, New York

Several of our classmates disproved the theory that "Marriage, Motherhood and Medicine do not mix."

It became apparent at times that Cardiology Clinic and construction of the new building did not enjoy peaceful coexistence.

PATRICIA A. MILLER
College of Mount Saint Vincent, B.S.
Astoria, New York

PAULA A. MOYNAHAN
College of Mount Saint Vincent, B.S.
Waterbury, Connecticut

Compensated edontia often made itself evident.

And we found that they also serve who only stand and wait.

ANNETTA L. MURPHY
Trinity College, A.B.
Milton, Massachusetts

BARBARA L. O'PRAY
Ripon College, A.B.
Greenlawn, New York

The joys of taking night-call for the Emergency Room were insurmountable.

as were the joys of having a husband on whom to practice medicine.

VICTORIA VROOM OTT (JOHN)
Moravian College, B.S.
Oreland, Pennsylvania

JEANNE R. PAMILLA
St. John's University, B.S.
Glendale, New York

ERATING
ROOM

NO
DMITTANCE

New doors were ever being opened to us.

Our understanding of human suffering was an intrinsic part of our medical training.

MARJORIE L. PLESSET
University of California, B.A.
Pasadena, California

JOYCE SALWEN PAUPORTE (JACQUES)
Hunter College of the City of New York, A.B.
New York, New York

One night, each December, the student body would forgo daily routine for the enchantment of the Holly Ball.

*"The eye of an eagle, the heart of a lion and the hand of a woman"
often held us in good stead.*

ELIZABETH ANN REICH
Cornell University, A.B.
Hackensack, New Jersey

BARBARA P. SNARR REID (JOHN)
University of Utah, B.S.
Salt Lake City, Utah

But the "husband of a woman" cannot be forgotten in this story—some of us would become wives as well as doctors.

Our recipe books were filled with pharmacological data . . .

ROBERTA RITTER
University of Pennsylvania
Doylestown, Pennsylvania

BARBARA A. SANDT
Bucknell University, B.S.
Allentown, Pennsylvania

. . . and our gardens were planted with Staph and Strep.

We eagerly awaited news of home and loved ones whom we could no longer see as often as in the past.

SHARON F. SAPIR
Douglass College of Rutgers University. A.B.
New Brunswick, New Jersey

JOAN GABRIELLE STERN
New York University, B.A.
Riverdale, New York

We treated others' loved ones as we would our own.

The holder of the only AB blood type in our class did indeed make herself the universal blood recipient.

JOAN M. SULEWSKI
University of Pittsburgh, B.S.
Nanticoke, Pennsylvania

BARBARA DIPPL WEINSTEIN (DAVID)
The Pennsylvania State University, B.S.
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

The weeks between National Boards and the beginning of our internships were some of the most carefree of our lives.

And on June 6, 1968, we, the CLASS of '68, were formally endowed with membership in the most noble of brotherhoods and were thenceforth to be known as DOCTORS of MEDICINE.

MARGIT M. WINSTROM
Lawrence College, B.A.
Mequon, Wisconsin

The SENIORS

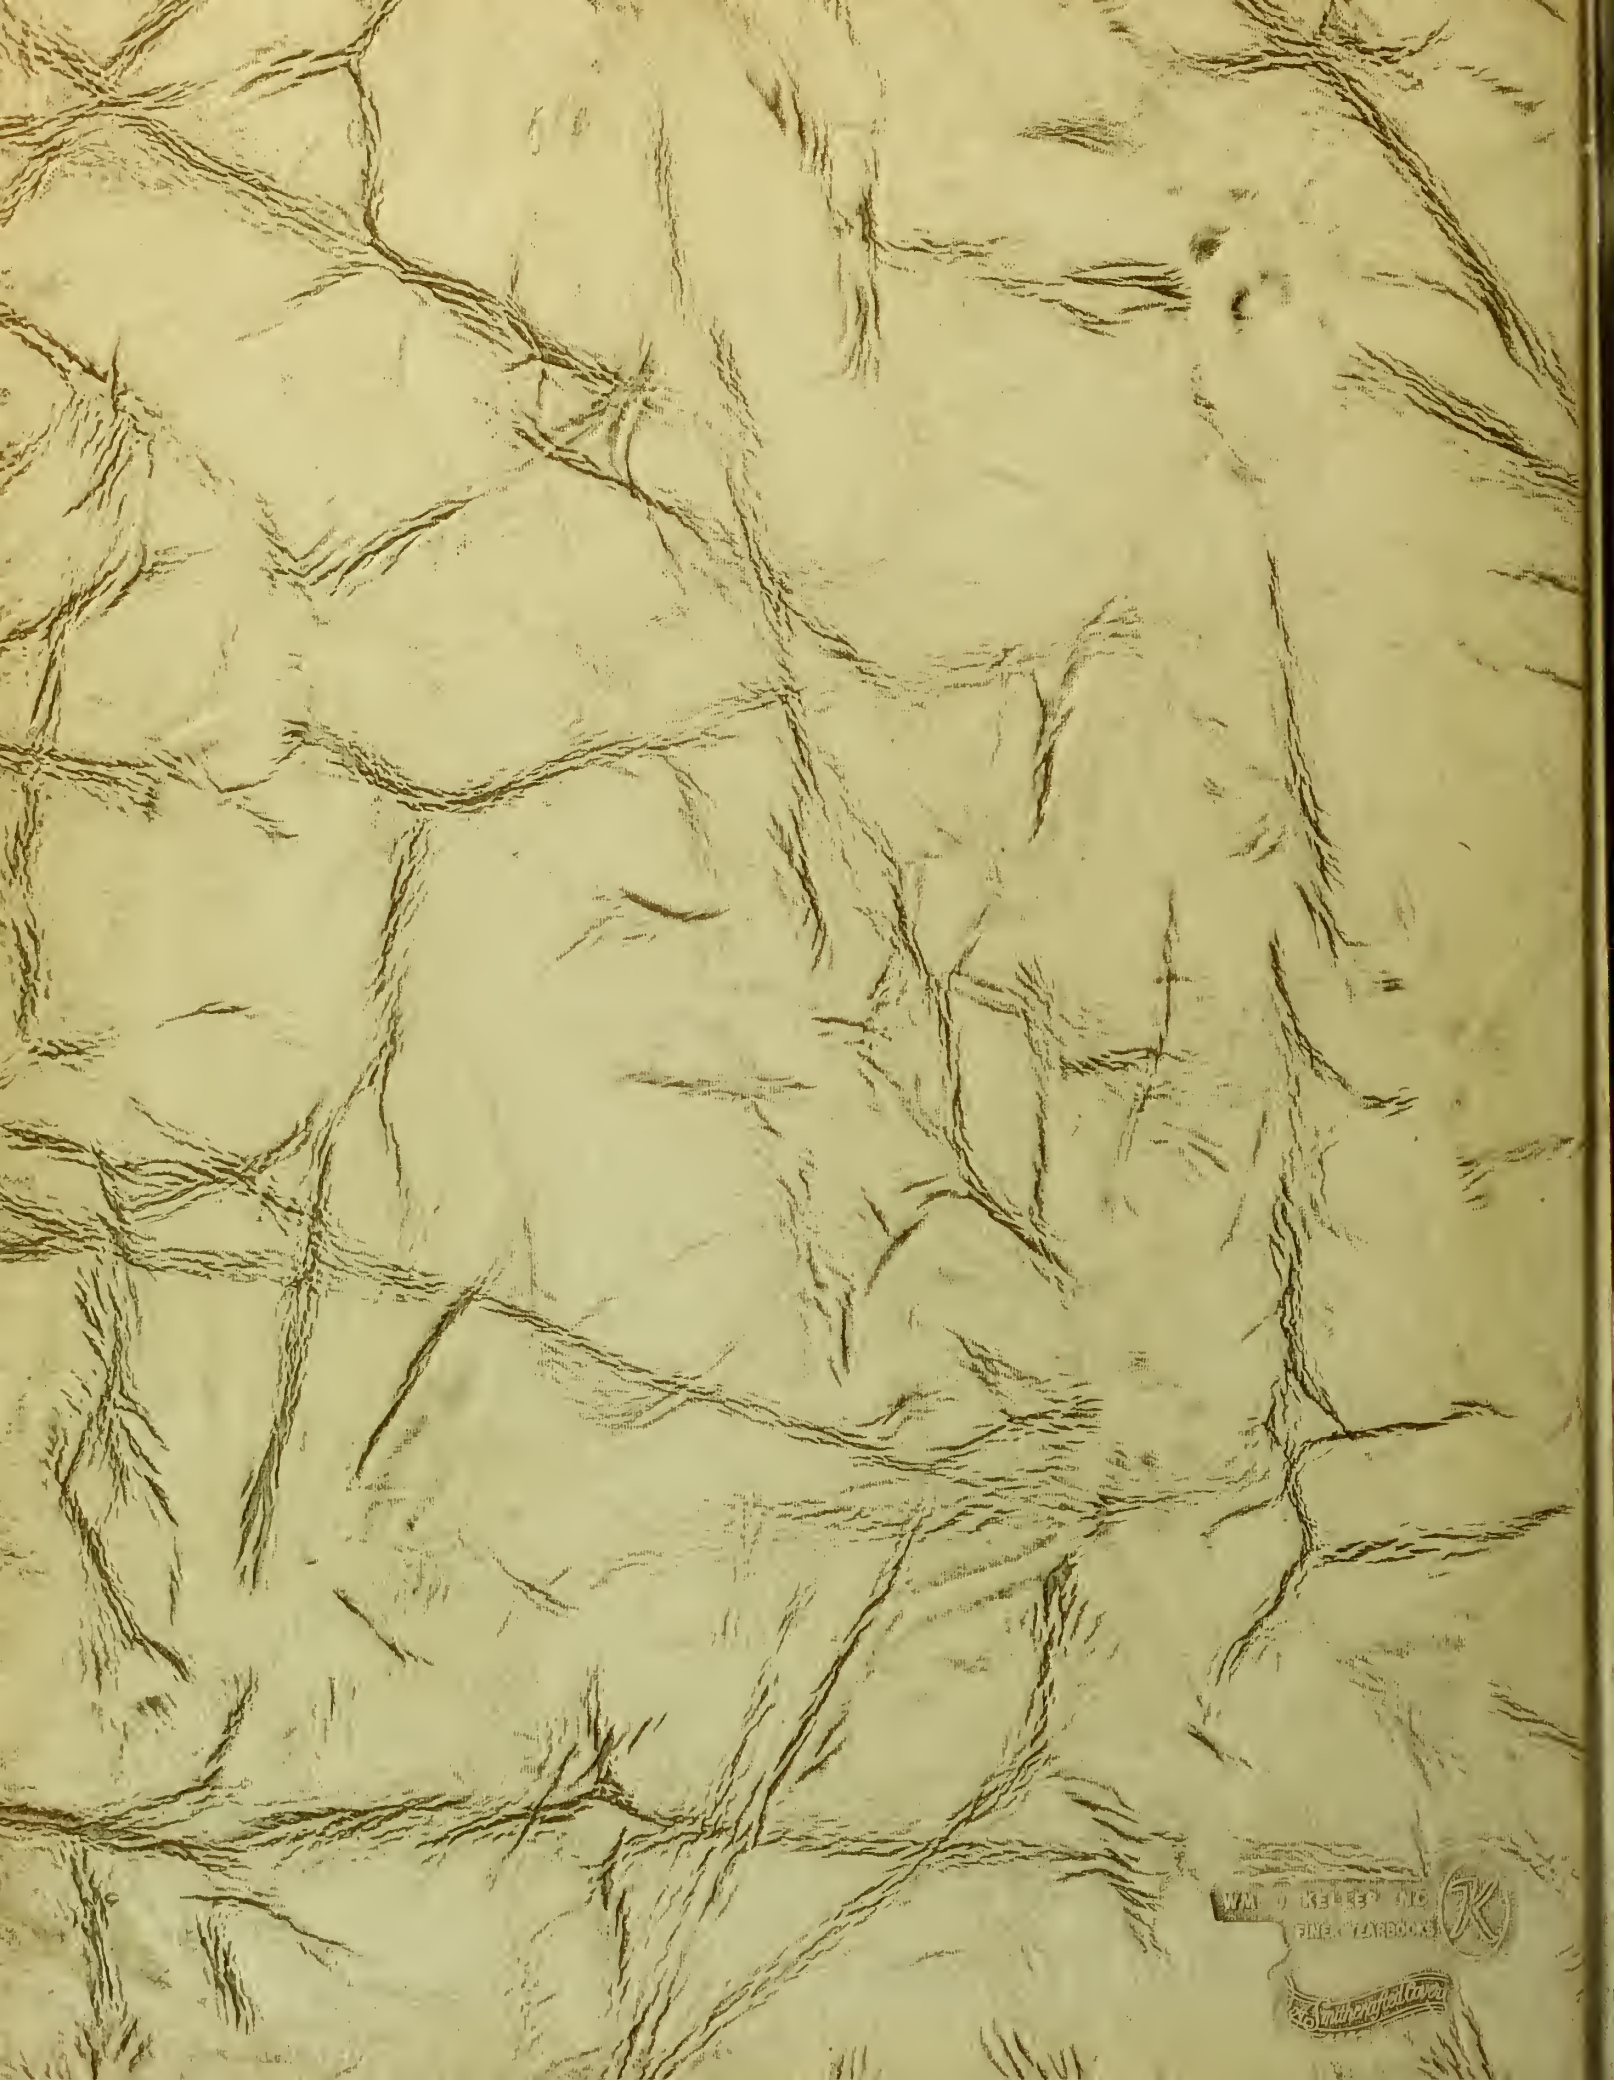

Now this is not the end. It is not even the beginning of the end. But it is, perhaps, the end of the beginning.
